

DANCE NOTES

By Helen C. Smith

Staff Writer

Ann Greyson, 16, a senior apprentice with Decatur Dancers, has been invited to participate in auditions for the Prix de Lausanne held under the supervision of Jean-Pierre Bonnefoux in Houston, Texas next month.

Out of the 90 young American dancers who qualified, only six will be awarded scholarships to go to Switzerland for the Prix de Lausanne competition. Others may go, but at their own expense.

Miss Greyson was chosen this past summer when she was studying at the Joffrey Ballet School in New York. She is a student at Cross Keys High School.